Do you need to know how strong the constituents of your sample may be? Let us help you find out!

Contaminants

We screen for microbiology, heavy metals, residual solvents, and pesticides to the highest standards.

Psychedelics

Developed & validated advanced analytical methods to accurately measure psychoactive compounds & other controlled substances.

Custom Methods

Our customizable solutions include method transfer, development, and validation.

The Alkemist Labs Difference: Analytical Expertise & Individualized Technical Support

Because plants are complex, testing them requires more than a combination of analytical techniques. It also demands the expertise to know when and how to apply them accurately. Our ISO/IEC 17025 flexible scope accreditation from A2LA is a testament to that expertise, independently confirming our technical competence. From guiding you in the selection of botanical reference materials to determining the appropriate tests and helping resolve testing discrepancies, our support is designed to give you confidence in your products and the documentation to demonstrate that confidence to regulators and customers.
